Resources for Parents Arizona Department of Education

Are you at your wits end about how to help your child succeed at school during distance learning?

The link below, from the Arizona Department of Education, has tons of resources to help you navigate through these tough times.

Topics include:

- What questions to ask your child's teacher or principal about distance learning
- Links to additional social and community services resources in both English and Spanish
- Links to virtual tours and activities to help motivate your child
- There is even help for students that may be struggling emotionally due to the isolation of distance learning.
